PASTOR'S PARAGRAPH

Have you ever noticed how easy it is to miss things "right before our noses?" When this happens it feels so ridiculous to have missed seeing something so very obvious. How many times have we gone to a cabinet and looked and looked for something and looked right over what we went there to find? Then someone else comes along, sees the item immediately because it was right there in plain sight. It happens all the time in our personal lives; those blind spots we just can't see.

Our blind spots and stubbornness not only get us into trouble in these trivial life matters. They also can easily get us in deep waters in our spiritual life. When it comes to discerning what God wants us to see, and finding His direction for life, we can very easily miss what he wants us to see and know. The consequences are much more costly than missing finding a can of soup or a box of pasta.

How then can I know what God desires of me?

First, spend time with God. The more time we spend with someone, the more we know their ways and needs. Do you spend enough quality time with God in prayer, bible study, and worship?

Second, do your homework. Find out all you possibly can about the circumstances, needs, and what you can do! Do not be so stubborn or blind to assume you already know the answer. Thinking we know often gets us into the biggest trouble. Without doing our homework, we can wind up on a wild goose chase that leads to nowhere, or worse still, disaster.

Third, consult the "experts." Sometimes we simply have to ask for help to know His way for our lives. Ask God! Ask others who can help us and have been this road before. It may be a pastor, a teacher, a parent, a friend. Be where God is and with people who know and follow Him. Learn from them. Don't let stubbornness cause you to miss His way.

Fourth, act on what you learn. Many times we learn by doing. Life is an adventure. Acquiring knowledge, even godly knowledge is not enough; we must take the leap of faith and act upon it. That's where Christian joy is found!

As the people of God, we are truly blessed! We have God to help us, wonderful opportunities to pray and worship and study and many spiritual friends to guide us along life's way. As we venture forth as individuals and as His church, let's continually seek His way in all things and when we find it, act on His will for His glory!

Mike

Our Christian sympathy is extended to:

Josie Myrick in the death of her brother, Mack Smith
James & Mary Virginia Kearney in the death of his sister-in-law, Caroline Kearney

The almighty church choir! It's the mid-week alarm that lets you know you've reached "hump day", your second family, and the thing that makes some of you rush out the door on Sunday mornings! It's also a commitment that you have made to the church! Our choir members take time on Wednesday nights (yes, that seems to be the night Jesus set aside for choir practices) to come and listen to me....well most of the time!!! They are such good followers...they will do just about whatever I say with no questions asked!

I love being music director! I love to praise God in this way! I'm going to serve this church with all my might, with all my soul, and with all my heart!

My sympathy goes out to Clyde and his family. I feel like I lost one of my biggest "fans". Melba always praised our music program and never failed to tell me how much she loved the music selections every Sunday morning. I will miss her!

Men and boys of all ages are invited.

Our Deacon's will meet on Sunday, September 13, at 7:00 P.M. Continue to pray for our deacons as they pray and consider the spiritual welfare of our church and her ministries.

DEACONS ELECTION

On Sunday, August 23, during a special business session, Deacon Nominations were made by the church through secret ballot. During a specially called business meeting on September 20 at the conclusion of worship, the top four accepting nominations will be placed on a ballot to elect two persons to serve a four-year term each. The four nominees will be announced at the earliest possible time for your prayerful consideration. On that same day our Nominating Committee will present their slate of officers and teachers for the 2015-2016 church year.
