PASTOR'S PARAGRAPH

The past year of Ann and my life have been challenging with her cancer diagnosis yet we have been blessed by the prayers of our church and friends far beyond measure. We thank you so very much and ask you to continue to pray after her recent excellent reports and as she regains strength. Prayer matters - but is often not easy or simple.

I share with you a previous column from some years back that adequately reflects my continued thinking regarding our call to prayer.

Prayer is a life time of discipline and difficult labor. At times it seems despite all our many practical efforts to learn about prayer and a deeper relationship with God, and all our years of praying, we still can but conclude we are mere novices. The following prayer (or portions of a prayer) by spiritual writer Henri J. M. Nouwen from his book A Cry for Mercy, (p. 50) reflects the feelings I often have when it comes to developing a deeper walk through prayer. As I read, I could easily pray the same prayer minus the books written. You too may experience something similar or you may say I'm no where close to being where Nouwen is, yet I can still relate.

"O Lord Jesus Christ, Son of the living God, have mercy on me, a sinner. I am impressed by my own spiritual insights. I probably know more about prayer meditation, and contemplation than most Christians do. I have read many books about the Christian life, and have even written a few myself. Still, as impressed as I am, I am more impressed by the enormous abyss between my insights and my life.

It seems as if I am standing on one side of a huge canyon and see how I should grow toward you, live in your presence and serve you, but cannot reach the other side of the canyon where you are. I can speak and write, preach and argue about the beauty and goodness of the life I see on the other side, but how, O Lord, can I get there? Sometimes I even have the painful feeling that the clearer the vision, the more aware I am of the depth of the canyon... Sometimes I feel imprisoned by my own insights and "spiritual incompetence." You alone, Lord can reach out to me and save me. You alone.

I can only keep trying to be faithful, even though I feel faithless most of the time. What else can I do but keep praying to you, even when I feel dark; to keep writing about you, even when I feel numb; to keep speaking in your name, even when I feel alone. Come Lord Jesus, come. Have mercy on me, a sinner. Amen."

Whether you feel a novice, lifelong learner, or both, I suspect you feel inadequate when it comes to your prayer journey. His final words are the most important for us. Keep praying, even when we feel dark and numb. Keep speaking his name even when we feel alone in our prayers. God knows our need and hears us! God alone is merciful to us even when we feel alone in our prayers. Don't give up! Press on to a life of prayer and faith where you spend time with Him, even if you do seem to be "on the other side of the canyon." Never forget, God is everywhere hearing our every need, even when we can't seem to realize it ourselves.

Keep journeying deeper into your life of prayer. God is patient and merciful! And He hears our every prayer!

Mike

Our Christian sympathy is extended to:

Mike Crawley in the death of his mother-in-law, Mary Davidson

I want to thank the Junior Singers and the Adult Choir for the beautiful music they presented on Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday. It is such a joy to work with these wonderful singers!

This is the only time of year that we will not be working on some type of holiday music! We are working on several new selections to share with you during worship service in the near future! There are so many types of Christian music out there...old and new! We want to present a little bit of both!

The Mission Committee will meet following Morning Worship on Sunday, April 3, to finalize the plans for the kid's carnival to be held at the John 3:16 Center.

Our Deacons will meet on Sunday, April 3, at 7:00 P.M. in the Church Annex Conference Room. Please continue to pray for our deacons as they pray and consider the spiritual welfare of our church and her ministries.

SPRING MISSIONS INITIATIVE

On April 15 at 9:00 A.M. we will begin set up for the Carnival. All volunteers should meet at the church, then travel to the John 3:16 Center.

On Saturday, April 16, our church is sponsoring a free children's carnival at the John 3:16 Center. Everyone's help is needed to make this a fun day for our children. There is a GREAT need for new and gently used children's books. This has been a big hit with the children in past years. Our book supply is very low. Please check your closets, bookcases, yard sales, friend's homes or stores for those books. We want to give each child a book. Our goal is 250 books. Also, ask your neighbor or friend if they would like to spend a fun day "playing" with children. We can use everyone from registration, parking, food, game assistants to huggers and encouragers. Remember to pick up a large drink when you are at the grocery store or drug store. Catch them on sale!!

Goodie Bags will be provided for each child and a Health Screening will also be a part of this event.

Please be in prayer for this "BIG EVENT" and our church family as we host the Children's Free Carnival! The event begins at 8:30 A.M. with breakfast in our fellowship hall.

Volunteers are essential to the success of this mission. If you have not signed up yet we will still be able to use your help! Please come help us! Thanks so much for what you have done in the past and for your help and encouragement this year. See you at the carnival!

The following is the flower schedule for the month of April 2016.
